Season's Greetings to All

At this Holiday time, may we be grateful for our sobriety and continue to extend the hand and the love of A.A. to the alcoholic who still suffers. Having left the darkness behind us, may we look toward the light of the future with gratitude and hope, sharing in the fellowship of the spirit. We wish each of you a sober and happy Holiday Season.

From the Advisory Board, Office Staff, the LiveWire Staff, and all the Committee Members.

First Christmas Sober

That dreaded trip home turned out just fine after all

DURING MY first year of sobriety, I had quite a hard time. I didn't drink, but the obsession with alcohol was still in me. I see now that I hadn't turned my drinking and my life over to a Higher Power. I was scared, real scared. To find some sort of spirituality, I visited a new church.

One of the ministers there caught my attention. I hung on his every word for hope. One day, a small group of us were sitting around a table chatting with this minister. In desperation, I asked a general question, trying not to mention anything specific about AA. The minister's answer sounded just like the Fourth Step. Something inside me clicked, and I knew I had to talk to him in private.

I waited alone after the session. I hesitated, too embarrassed to reach out. "What you said to me was extremely meaningful to me," I said.

"I'm glad I could help."

I stammered, "Well . . . what I really mean to say is . . . I'm trying to stay sober. I have almost a year in AA. What you said to me sounded exactly like the Fourth Step. I needed it, since I'm working on it now."

He looked at me with a funny expression. I looked down at my shoes. I guessed he didn't understand what I had said. After all, how many people would?—unless they were in AA themselves. But when I looked at him again, he wore a big grin.

"Do you know what day this is?" he asked.

I wondered if it was some sort of holiday. "No, I don't," I admitted.

Now the expression on his face turned to sheer glee. "Today is my eighth birthday in AA," he said.

Well, you could have knocked me over with a soda straw. I'd had no clue that he was in the Fellowship, too. So that's why I related to everything he said! It was a real awakening for me.

I decided to blurt out the rest. "I'm going home for the holidays, and I'm scared. It's my first Christmas sober." I thought about all of the negativity I would have to face when I went back home.

The minister looked serious. He seemed to have confidence in me, even though my own was minimal. "You'll be all right, just keep the cork in the bottle."

The trip home was as anticipated—no sweet bed of roses. But I got through it sober. Faces and voices of AA friends came flashing into my head. I also found that even my hometown had an AA group, for which I was grateful. When I returned to my own group, everyone noticed a big change in me. I had made a step toward turning my life over to a Higher Power.

Now, it is my own eighth birthday in AA. I will be forever grateful to all the people who have helped me. I am also grateful for those "coincidences" that always seem to occur when I need them. They are a great part of what people mean when they say, "It works!"

Concepts 12: The Conference shall observe the spirit of A.A. Tradition, taking care that it never becomes the perilous wealth or power; that sufficient operating funds and reserve be its prudent financial principle; that it place none of its members in a position of unqualified authority over others; that it reach all important decisions, vote, and, whenever possible, by substantial unanimity; that its actions never be personally punitive nor an incitement to public controversy; that it never perform acts of government, and that, like the Society it serves, it will always remain democratic in thought and action.

Step 12: Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these Steps, we tried to carry this message to alcoholics, and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

Tradition 12: Anonymity is the spiritual foundation of all our traditions, ever reminding us to place principles before personalities.

Promise 12: We will suddenly realize that God is doing for us what we could not do for ourselves.

Gift. . . the best Christmas present . . .

FROM THE TIME I was two or three years old, holidays meant fights and being surrounded by drunks. I dreaded Christmas with a terrible fear. I hated this time of celebration and resented the people who were able to buy gifts. I had no gifts. I didn't buy presents or share that joy.
 When I found sobriety in AA, I had peace, and I lived for the meetings. But as Christmas approached, the old fear returned. Where would I go and what would I do? I had been sober several months and was staying with my mother. Earnings from odd jobs went for clothing. I got her a card, and it was a cheap one at that!
 Then my brothers and sisters arrived with electric toasters and big, expensive gifts for our mother. I was the only one who couldn't get her a present. Ashamed and embarrassed, I gave my mother the card and told her I was sorry I hadn't bought her a gift.
 My mother said, "If you only knew how many sleepless nights I've worried whether you were dead or alive and prayed that God would either sober you up or take you! Son, you being sober is the best Christmas present I could have." That was the first time I realized you don't always have to do anything to make some amends. Just stay sober, and the hurts stop.
 I had spent ten years on skid row and twelve years in the penitentiary before AA. Now, I'm off heroin and alcohol. With seven years' sobriety, I'm not eating from garbage cans anymore. I've worked in construction during most of my sobriety. But that Christmas was the best of all, when I was just trying to do God's will. I am grateful for the love and fellowship of AA.

John Ott's Passing:

John Ott passed away at 6:45 am. Nov. 13, 2006 at the Bellevue Hospital, in Bellevue after a long battle with cancer. John, was my sponsor, my fellow Coworker with the New London campout, and my best friend. John sponsored me for 12 years in alcoholics anonymous, after the death of Jack Draves my first sponsor. John will be greatly missed in the AA community, for his work and support. Also John's passing will leave a void in the Huron County community for his years of service, on various boards. I certainly will miss him and all the help that he's given to me and so many others The Apostle Paul said, I have fought a good fight, I've kept the faith now henceforth their is a crown laid up for me, but not only for me but for everyone that loves and serves GOD. Please pray for Mary and their 3 sons, Kevin, David, and Chris.
Basil "Bas " Elliott
